ABBOTT—JUDKINS

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the Upton Congregational Church on Sunday, March 29, when Miss Lillian U. Judkins of Upton and Sidney E. Abbott of East Sumner were united in marriage by Rev. Wilbur I. Bull of Watford. Many of the townspeople attended, as well as the immediate families of both bride and groom. A reception was given them at the home of the bride's parents immediately after the wedding.

The bride graduated from the C. M. G. Hospital about 10 days before her marriage. Mr. Abbott works at the Todd-Bath shipyard at South Portland. The couple will make their home at Court Street in Auburn.

WIGHT SEEKS NOMINATION AS REPRESENTATIVE

Lon E. Wight of North Newry has announced that he will be a candidate in the primaries next June as representative to the Legislature from this district. Mr. Wight has served two terms as representative, besides over 20 years on the board of selectmen of his town. His friends feel that his experience will make him a strong candidate the coming season.

Week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Ireland were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ireland of Bradford, Vt., Miss Leslie Ireland, Miss Connie Estes and Miss Ruth Dickson from the University of New Hampshire, and William Lever from Lewiston.

The regular meeting of Purly Chapter, O. E. S., was held Wednesday evening with a pot luck supper, followed by a rehearsal of the initiatory work. The next meeting will be May 6, with initiatory work, also another pot luck supper, with Mrs. Florence Blake, Mrs. Thelma Van Den Kerkhoven and Mrs. Jane Van Den Kerkhoven as the supper committee.

About 45,000 feet of lumber was lost early Sunday morning in a fire which destroyed the dry house of P. A. Chadbourne & Co. at South Bethel. Due to the fact that the company's buildings are spaced well apart and there was no wind at the time of the fire, the fire department was able to confine the loss to the building and its contents, even saving some 18,000 feet of dry lumber which was piled nearby.

Much time was lost in answering the call, the electric power being shut off for repairs to the high tension line so that the fire siren could not be used. It was necessary to call the firemen by telephone and the old fire bell, so that the building was ablaze before the arrival of the pumper on the scene.

The dry house, which was built last year, was 20x100 feet. There was open storage space of this size which was reached by trucks on the upper level, besides an adjoining shed on the lower level. In the west end of the ground floor was the heating plant which consisted of two steam boilers and a Dutch oven. The boilers were not used for steam purposes but hot air from them was circulated by fans throughout the house. It is said that the fire was caused when the power was shut off and the circulating fans stopped so that the heat for the entire building was confined to the boilers.

The loss is estimated at $4,500, largely covered by insurance. It is understood that Mr. Chadbourne plans to rebuild later.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—the risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strains on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feet constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

The Poorest Place to Tell a Lie!

It has been said by some of our radical reformers that advertising misleads the public.

Such accusations fall under their own weight.

The poorest place in the world to attempt a lie is in the advertising columns of American newspapers and magazines, and in American radio programs.

In the first place, our publishers and broadcasting companies wouldn't carry dishonest advertising. They outlawed it long ago.

In the second place, such efforts to mislead would be conducted in full view of the public and of the officials empowered to apply fraud laws.

In the third place, dishonest advertising is as inefficient as dirty football. It does not pay.

Informed people have lost interest in the advertising-baiting books and speeches of the radical self-appointed reformers since one after another of them has figured prominently before the House Special Committee on un-American Activities.

COLORED EGGS FOR EASTER

My neighbor thinks we're foolish to color Easter eggs this year. "It's no time for nonsense like that," she says, "with the world at war and the future so uncertain."

"I know," she said. "Nature goes on as if nothing unusual were happening. But we know that's not so. We read the papers and listen to the radio. Dozens of boys from this very town are in the army or navy. Rationing has begun, and goodness knows what will happen before this year is over."

"Isn't that all the more reason to see that our children have a happy Easter this spring -- with colored eggs and new clothes and special services at the church?"

"No," my neighbor said, shaking her head very firmly. "Easter is supposed to be a day of joy and hope and new beginnings—a day in which to be thankful because winter is over and summer has begun."

I agreed with her. But, as I see it, this year is a time of new beginnings. In the midst of all this destruction it seems to me there is a sense of hope that wasn't there last year. A year ago at this time we lived under the shadow of a great uncertainty. We were concerned with the war and were trying to help the nations who were fighting for the thing we believed in. But we weren't in it. We were trying to keep on with business as usual and life as usual. Now we're in the war up to our ears. We know that nothing can go on as usual until it is won. And even if it does mean "blood, sweat and tears," we feel certain of the outcome.

A year ago this country was seriously divided. Some people thought we should be in the war. Others thought we should do everything in our power to stay out, and although we were training an army, our industrial system was not yet dedicated entirely to war production. Today all that is different. We know it will take more equipment than we dreamed would be necessary to defeat the enemy, who is efficient and well equipped. We have suffered serious, humiliating defeats. But our industry is really on the march—as factories making everything from automobiles to textiles are converted to wartime production.

Right now, $40 billion worth of war material is the production goal set for 1942. A big increase over the $15 billion worth produced in 1941! This increase means a speed-up in plant conversion and in employee training beyond anything the world has ever seen. But industry is doing it—in spite of delays and misunderstandings. And every day the picture is changed as labor and management adjust themselves to the need of the day.

So, I see reason for hope this Easter season—reason for thankfulness—and a reason for having colored eggs as usual!

All persons indebted to me are requested to make payment in full on or before April 20, 1942, or their accounts will be put in the hands of my attorney for collection.

How Do You Buy?

The thrifty person does not always buy at the lowest price, nor does he of necessity buy the best values in actual dollars and cents. The truly thrifty buyer has something further in mind. In connection with many commodities there is a question of service, of the possibility of reasonably prompt replacement or repair, or of exchange or adjustment.

In any case, these items may become of great importance and should be considered when tempted by seemingly low figures.

We believe that most of our readers' needs should be met by merchants and those near them who can furnish the best service. This can be done only by consistent patronage of local business. We believe that local business concerns are entitled to a fair profit on goods carried for our convenience and for services rendered.

BLACKOUT RULES FOR HOMES

It is possible that enemy air raids by night may require emergency blackouts at any time. If such raids occur, it is imperative that a complete blackout of all lights that can be seen from outside your home be made immediately. This is not only for your own protection but also that of others.

Any violation of blackout orders is punishable by heavy fines and imprisonment.

1. The occupants of all premises including homes are responsible for the execution of this order and are subject to the penalties for violation.

2. Upon the sounding of the air raid warning extinguish all lights visible from the outside.

3. This includes all yard, garage and barn lights as well as lights inside the house. Be sure that there is no light burning in your cellar. Make it a practice for the last person to turn out lights every time he leaves a room. This will save you money, conserve electricity and avoid confusion in case of an emergency.

4. Select one or more rooms in your house where you consider it advisable to have lights burning during a blackout. It is recommended that the kitchen be one of these rooms and that the additional rooms, if possible, be adjoining or adjacent to the kitchen. Make provisions immediately for the covering of the windows and any other apertures where light may be seen from the outside. This cover may be any opaque material such as curtains, shades, draperies, blankets, etc. The materials need not be black but they must be opaque. Check what you have on hand before buying. Two layers of thin material may make an opaque hanging. Make certain that the material is fastened securely to the window frames at the top, sides and bottom, so that no light may leak around the edges. Keep this material near the opening which it is to cover so that it can be installed immediately. Practice putting this material over the openings to see how quickly it can be done. Make sure that every member of your family knows where light switches are located. When a blackout is on and you are in a lighted room which has been blacked out, be careful about opening any doors leading out of that room from which the light may shine into an adjoining room or hallway that can be seen from the outside.

5. Your air raid warden will be glad to give you advice in connection with any particular problems that you may have. If you are in doubt, consult the air raid warden in your district. Air raid wardens will check on the effectiveness of the blackout provisions that you have made upon request by you. Remember, however, that the responsibility is yours and that penalties for the violation of this order will be imposed upon you.

6. All members of the household must comply with the following instructions during a blackout:

- (a) Remain in the house as much as possible.
- (b) Make certain that there is no light from any source on your premises that can be seen from the outside.
- (c) Use no matches or portable light out doors.
- (d) Use low intensity white lights in blacked out rooms, and have lights so arranged or shaded that they do not shine directly on any window or other openings or their coverings. Constant care must be taken that light does not escape around the edges of blacked out openings.

7. Every adult in your household must know the location and operation of:

- (a) Water shut-off
- (b) Gas shut-off
- (c) Main electrical switch
- (d) Fuel oil shut-off

Tag each of these plainly. Clear your attic of all inflammable material. If there are no stairs to the attic, have a ladder to it in place at all times. Have flash lights with extra batteries and bulbs on hand. Keep two pairs of
